Imagine Your Overflow!

Rev. Leslie Woods

Unity Church of Austin

- If I were already living a life of complete financial freedom, what would I be doing and how would I be feeling? Describe a typical day in detail, from waking up to going to sleep.
- Write a letter to God as if you are thanking God for the abundance you've already received. Describe the specific blessings and opportunities you are grateful for, even if they haven't manifested yet. Write this from a place of deep faith and certainty.
- What are the three most significant limiting beliefs I hold about money or prosperity? Where did these beliefs come from? Now, write a new, empowering belief to replace each one.
- Imagine a time when you received an unexpected blessing, whether it was a gift, an opportunity, or a kind word. How did it feel? Reflect on the source of that blessing. How can I open myself to receive more of this divine flow?
- "My cup runneth over" (Psalm 23:5) is a powerful image of abundance. What are the specific ways my cup is already overflowing? List everything you have in abundance, from love and friendships to opportunities and creativity.
- If I had no fear, how would I use my talents and time to serve others and bring in greater prosperity? What is the first step I can take in that direction today?
